Self-Guided Walking Tour

WELCOME TO BUFFALO STATE!
We are pleased that you’re visiting the campus! We hope this self-guided tour will help you become more familiar with the college.

START AT:

19 Moot Hall
The Financial Aid, Registrar’s, and Student Accounts offices are upstairs; the Admissions Office is downstairs.

Exit Moot Hall and walk northeast to the Donald Savage Theater and Communication Building 3.

3 Donald Savage Theater and Communication Building
This building is home to our media production (broadcasting) program, television and film arts program, and Theater Department. It also contains the Flexible Theatre, classrooms, and broadcasting studios.

Walk along the north side of Ketchum Hall 2. Notice the quadrangle of space (Rockwell Quad) formed by the four brick buildings: Rockwell 1, Ketchum 2, Savage 3, and Bacon 4. These are four of the original five Buffalo State buildings completed in 1931. Construction in this area to replace underground utility piping is expected to conclude during the 2013–2014 academic year.

2 Ketchum Hall
Ketchum Hall houses the English, Exceptional Education, and Speech-Language Pathology departments.

Continue walking east to the front of Rockwell Hall 1, toward Elmwood Avenue.

Rockwell Hall
Rockwell Hall, with its stately columns and clock tower, is the college’s signature building. After undergoing renovations in 2012, the building features the 850-seat Performing Arts Center, the 200-seat Louis P. Ciminelli Recital Hall, as well as new classrooms, computer labs, and studio spaces. The Art Conservation Department is located on the second floor.

Continue to the north side of Rockwell Hall and walk westward along Iroquois Drive. You will notice a small brick building on your right, Campus House 5.

Campus House
Campus House opened in 1931 as one of the five original campus buildings. For many years, it served as the home of the college president. In 2000, the building was renovated as a teaching lab for the Hospitality and Tourism Department and a social club for the Buffalo State community.

Head southwest as you walk back to Rockwell Quad, toward Bacon Hall 4.

4 Bacon Hall
Bacon Hall houses the Elementary Education and Reading, Educational Foundations, and Higher Education and Student Affairs Administration departments. This building also contains several of the 67 "smart" classrooms located throughout campus, which are equipped with computers to enable professors to use multimedia tools and the Internet to enhance the classroom experience.

Continue west between Cleveland Hall 24 and E. H. Butler Library 6. Turn the corner (right) into the Student Union Quad, another campus quadrangle formed by Cleveland Hall 24, the Campbell Student Union 8A, Bulger Communication Center 24, and E. H. Butler Library 6. Enter E. H. Butler Library 6 on your right.

6 E. H. Butler Library
Butler Library has more than 675,000 printed books, access to full-text articles from over 57,000 online and print journals, and nearly 174,000 electronic books. Students can also access microfilm, microfiche, periodicals, and rent electronic items such as projectors or laptop computers here. The library provides more than 200 computers for student use and is home to the Study Quad, a portion of the library that is open to students 24 hours a day. E. H. Butler Library has many special collections including the Curriculum Materials Lab for education students and the Buffalo State archives.

Exit the library and cross the Student Union Quad to the Campbell Student Union 8A.

Campbell Student Union
The Campbell Student Union is the center of life on campus and received extensive updates in 2013. It houses our Barnes & Noble Bookstore, student dining facility, and a 400-seat retail food court. It also contains the student-run radio station, WBNY-FM 91.3; television stations; and the International Student Affairs Office. The fourth floor is home to student organizations on campus; a Game Room is located on the lower level.

Exit the Student Union the same way you came in (east side), and walk north toward Bulger Communication Center 24.

24 Bulger Communication Center
This round building contains the larger lecture halls on campus along with smaller classrooms. The basement houses the Instructional Resources Center, which provides multimedia services, electronic learning, and classroom-technology support for the instructional and administrative programs of the college.

To the east of Bulger, you will see Caudell Hall 18.

18 Caudell Hall
Caudell Hall contains classrooms and kitchens for students in the dietetics and hospitality administration programs. The Speech-Language Pathology Clinic is also located in this building.

Head north, down the steps on the west side of Bulger 24, toward Upton Hall 7.

Upton Hall
Upton Hall houses the fine arts and design departments. Upton Hall has several art studios and two art galleries. Upton Hall also features one of Western New York’s premier performance spaces, Warren Enters Theatre, which is named after the Tony Award–winning Buffalo State emeritus professor who served the college from 1968 to 1992.

Moving west from Upton, you will see the Science Building 15.
Self-Guided Walking Tour

Science Building
The Science Building contains the biology, chemistry, forensic chemistry, earth sciences, geology, physics, and science education programs. It also houses the Whithworth Ferguson Planetarium, greenhouses, and multiple laboratories. This building is currently undergoing Phase II of a $17.6 million reconstruction project. Phase I was completed in 2012 and Phase II is expected to be complete in 2016.

- North of the Science Building are the Towers residence halls

Tower 1
Tower 2
Tower 4
Located to the north of the Science Building, the Towers are suite-style residence halls for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Each of the Towers will receive updates to its lounge, laundry, and individual bedrooms, starting in 2013 with Tower 4. Tower 1 features single-room suites for students 21 years of age or older. Behind Tower 1, you will see Moore Complex, apartments for upper-division, graduate students, and students with children.

- Walk southwest toward the Classroom Building

Classroom Building
This building is home to the Anthropology, Criminal Justice, Economics and Finance, Geography and Planning, History and Social Studies Education, Political Science, Psychology, Social Work, and Sociology departments and several classrooms.

- Head northwest to the Sports Arena and Houston Gymnasium

Sports Arena
Houston Gymnasium
The Sports Complex is home to the NCAA Division III Buffalo State Bengals. Several Buffalo State athletic and fitness facilities are undergoing a $28 million renovation. These updates are expected to be complete in 2014 and include contemporary facilities for all Buffalo State athletic and fitness programs.

Throughout construction, Buffalo's only collegiate ice rink and the 3,500-seat Sports Arena are open. Surrounding athletics facilities include Coyer Field, Bengal Field, and an outdoor track.

- Southwest of the Sports Complex, you will see the Student Apartment Complex.

Student Apartment Complex
The newest residential building on campus, the Student Apartment Complex is home to 500 Buffalo State students. Each apartment contains four single bedrooms, two double bathrooms, a kitchen, and a furnished living room. These apartments also feature Wi-Fi and central air.

Perry Hall
This residence hall has corridor-style rooms and is home to more than 200 freshmen.

- Move south to Chase Hall

Chase Hall
Chase Hall houses the Computer Information Systems, Creative Studies, and Business departments, as well as University Police, which monitors the 41 blue-light safety phones located throughout the campus.

- Northwest of Chase Hall, you will see Weigel Health Center and the new Technology Building

Weigel Health Center
Weigel Health Center provides health and wellness services for all registered students. It also contains a pharmacy, the Counseling Center, and a dental clinic.

- Head south toward North Wing

North Wing
These three buildings, though connected, serve different purposes. North Wing, a suite-style residence hall, houses international and Muriel A. Howard Honors Program residential spaces and lounge. South Wing contains University College and its Academic Advisement Office, the Academic Skills Center, the Center for China Studies, the Disability Services Office, the Educational Opportunity Program (EOP), International and Exchange Programs, the Undergraduate Research Office, and more. Twin Rise is home to Computing and Technology Services.

- Follow the sidewalk eastward to the front entrance of Porter Hall

Porter Hall
This corridor-style residence hall is home to 400 freshmen and upperclassmen, and features all-female, co-ed, health and wellness, and quiet floors. It also contains the Orientation and Residence Life offices.

- Standing in front of Porter Hall, you will see Neumann Hall to the southeast and Bishop Hall to the northeast. These three buildings form Porter Quad.

Neumann Hall
Neumann Hall is a corridor-style residence hall that houses more than 200 freshmen.

Bishop Hall
Bishop Hall houses the Art Education, Communication, Mathematics, Modern and Classical Languages, and Philosophy and Humanities departments.

- Continue east to the traffic circle in front of Cleveland Hall

Cleveland Hall
Cleveland Hall contains offices for Alumni Affairs, the Career Development Center, College and Community Partnerships, the Graduate School, the Small Business Development Center, and college administration.

- On the south side of Cleveland Hall, you will find Moot Hall, the building you started from.
